Natural grown

Natural grown are sustainable grown in every steps. traditional grown methods respect the natural nutrients in the process, producing the highest quality ingredients based on techniques used for generations .

Anne Jensen Diamond Skincare are between 84 % to 100 % natural ingredients.
A part of the line are cosmos organic ecocert greenlife manufactured ingredients.

Anne Jensen Diamond skincare is a clean beauty line based on aqua marine botanicals, which calm the skin and natural botanicals which helps improve the skin.

Sustainable

If we really want the sustainable line then it's all about the finest ingredients for the skincare itself and the most recyclable materials for the packaging.

And for skincare produced in the finest ingredients, glass packaging is preferable as they can be recycled.

The purer the ingredients used in skincare the harder they have to work with plastic material and they often end up rancid.

The packagings are recyclable. How to sort depend on your country way to recycle.
